

Yaquina Art Association 2016-2017
Scholarship Winner from Oregon State University
Kiana McCurry

Born in 1995 in Murrieta, California, Kiana McCurry is a hardworking artist dedicated to growth and learning. McCurry began private drawing lessons from a young age and continued her classes all the way to her studies at Oregon State University. There, she began embracing her acute attention to detail, patterns and repetition that is now associated with McCurry's drawing and printmaking.

McCurry makes drawings, prints and mixed media artworks. By exploring the concept of landscape. McCurry investigates the manipulation of landscape and challenges our assumptions of what landscape should be by presenting an illusion of space within the repeating lines and patterns in her work.

Her drawings establish a link between the landscape's reality and that imagined by its conceiver. By focusing on techniques and materials, she tries to develop forms that do not follow logical criteria, but are based on subjective associations, which incite the viewer to make new personal associations.
